Project Planning with a Purpose

We recently had the pleasure of wrapping up a large scale furniture install for a wonderful "project with a purpose": An essential planned housing community for veterans in California.

We worked hand-in-hand with the Housing Authority of San Joaquin to help bring their vision to fruition. Budget and construction deadlines were the lead objectives. Consultations early in the planning stages helped to identify spatial layouts and granted flexibility on product choices and finishes.

One key word to describe how we manage every project: communication. A hands on approach provides optimum support to our clients. Providing safe and affordable housing options is our benchmark. We look forward to witnessing the upcoming opening of Victory Gardens. Our pride beams in support of HACSJ on their continuing commitment to help others!
